

Association
of Oregon
Archaeologists

Research Grant

The Association of Oregon Archaeologists (AOA) annually awards a research grant of up to $500 for proposals that advance our knowledge of Oregon archaeology through technical analyses, education, and interpretation.

Past AOA Research Grant topics have included radiocarbon dating (marine shell; weir stakes; bison bone), macrobotanical and starch/pollen analysis, obsidian sourcing and hydration studies, and blood residue analysis.

Qualifications and Requirements

Grant recipients need not be members of the Association or residents of Oregon, but their proposals must have a focus on Oregon archaeology. Applicants must have a minimum of a master's degree in anthropology or related field, or have a sponsor with these qualifications who is an active participant or advisor in the project.

Grant recipients are required to present their research at an AOA meeting, and are encouraged to publish in the Association's Occasional Papers series or in CAHO, the Association's newsletter.

Deadline

The research grant application deadline is April 30, 2018.

Application

A downloadable application is available at the Association's website:

www.associationoforegonarchaeologists.org

Contact Us for Questions and Submissions

AssocOregonArchaeologists@gmail.com

Association
of Oregon
Archaeologists

Research Grant Application

Please complete the following application, attach a current curriculum vitae, and email to AssocOregonArchaeologists@gmail.com

Name:

Address:

Phone:

Email:

Grant Proposal Title:

Context/Background Statement (add continuation sheet if necessary)

Research Grant Application (continued)

Statement of significance (What is the goal of this study? How will it benefit Oregon archaeology?)

Amount Requested:

Budget Justification (please briefly itemize estimated expenditures)